New South Wales

New South Wales is Australia's most diverse State, home to the country's largest and most cosmopolitan city, Sydney. The State has a string of accessible sparkling beaches stretching from north to south, a vast and colourful outback and Australia's highest mountain. Surrounding Sydney is a wonderland of national parks, forests, mountains, ancient river valleys and historic townships. The 5 World Heritage sites to explore include the Greater Blue Mountains Area, Lord Howe Island, Mungo National Park, Gondwana Rainforests of Australia and the most recent addition, the Sydney Opera House. Each offers visitors the chance to experience astonishing natural beauty as well as leisure activities that range from hiking and diving to seeing ancient human burial sites or enjoying the talent of the world's finest performers.

Sydney

Sydney doesn't exactly hide its charms – "if you've got it, flaunt it" could well be the harbour city's motto. Endowed with a sparkling harbour, dazzling beaches and a sunny Mediterranean climate, its setting alone has guaranteed Sydney a place among the most glamorous cities on the planet. Grafted onto those natural splendours is an impressive array of worldly treasures including a rich blend of cultures, a relaxed unbuttoned lifestyle and an appetite for life that makes this city one of the most exciting in the South Pacific.
